

Daniel Pearl WORLD MUSIC DAYS

In February, 2002, a kidnapped Wall Street Journal reporter was brutally murdered by his captors in Pakistan. The world was shocked by the senseless loss of Daniel Pearl, an ethical journalist and accomplished musician who dedicated his life to bringing joy and understanding to all. He had a profound understanding of the universal power of music and a belief in our shared humanity. In the spirit of the principles by which Daniel lived, his family was moved to inspire hope and unity by inviting people everywhere to hold musical events in his memory. Thus, the seeds were planted for Daniel Pearl World Music Days, which has grown over the last decade into a series of more than 2000 "Harmony for Humanity" concerts annually, taking place in more than 80 countries. The New Thought Music Festival is honored to join in this effort.

Tonight's performance is dedicated to the spirit of Daniel Pearl.
